

WILSON'S LEAD 1,560 IN NORTH DAKOTA

Farar, N. D., Nov. 9.—With thirty-three districts missing in a total of 1,490, President Wilson has a plurality of 1,560. The Republicans practically admit they are beaten. The vote has been counted all day, but the President has kept a slight lead.

PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED; WINS IN CALIFORNIA

Victory in Coast State Clinches Victory for Democratic Chief.

with an equally large German-American citizenry, supported Wilson. In other cities there was no indication that Americans of German extraction had voted as a unit for any particular candidate. The stubbornness with which the Republican leaders held to their hope for Hughes relaxed toward night, when California showed finally that it was for Wilson.

In the evening there seemed to be grim determination to endeavor by legal means to take away the pluralities in doubtful States which the leaders admitted privately existed in Wilson's favor. As the last hope of California finally flickered and went out there was little talk of contesting. It is likely that there will still be legal fights in some of the States, notably New Hampshire, but the probability is that these will be mere formalities.

Democratic national headquarters was today busy with some of the rooms being vacated for new tenants. Wilson shouted poured in and out of the half dismantled quarters all day, cheering each fresh bulletin and each new edition of the evening newspapers as the Wilson tide grew. Masterly staff were weary and red-eyed with loss of sleep, but the excitement kept them within reach of the telegraph bulletins.

The crowd did not worry much about the President's chances after they were assured that he had California safe. The following telegram, received at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, caused this assurance:

"California is safe for Wilson by 5,000. Woodrow Wilson Independent League watching count. Congratulations to the President and yourself." It was sent to Chairman McCormick by Laidor Jacobs, a former California Progressive, now President of the Woodrow Wilson Independent League in that State. All day the interest in the most exciting Presidential race since Cleveland narrowly won from Blaine in 1884 centered around the count in California. The vote in favor of Hughes slowly ebbed until late in the afternoon. Growing Hughes pluralities in the strong republican city and county of Los Angeles for a time threatened to wipe it out entirely. So close was the fight in other States that California might easily have turned the tide of victory.

Wilson Began to Gain.

In the afternoon Wilson began to pull ahead again. At night it was announced the count of 5,001 precincts out of a total of 5,500 gave Wilson 60,739 and Hughes 48,609, ahead of 2,290 for the President with less than 100 precincts to be heard from and most of these in northern California where Wilson is certain to run ahead.

While at Republican and Democratic headquarters all the doubtful states were claimed with a high degree of confidence, or apparent confidence, it was plain that the real leaders are now giving their best efforts and energies to the great legal battle that is bound to follow the receipt of the full unofficial returns. John B. Stanchfield, who has been retained by the Democratic National Committee to safeguard the Wilson interests when the Republican attack is delivered, was in frequent communication with the Democratic chiefs, and a complete line of defense was drawn up.

The Republican strategy is to consist of absolute refusal to concede that Wilson has carried the wavering States needed to make up his Electoral College, and to file contests wherever sufficient basis for them can be found to give them standing in court. While the Republicans talked bravely of what they proposed to do, there was a general air of gloom in their headquarters. After the late return from California many of the men high up in the Hughes campaign conceded that only by a legal battle can they hope to stem the Wilson tide.

Rhymester Foresees Victory for Wilson

Asbury Park, Nov. 9.—A telegram which yesterday caused the President a hearty laugh was from Fred Maco, of Los Angeles. It read: "Oh, Joseph (Secretary Tumulty) dear, and did you hear the Hughes that's going round? They counted lots of ballots, but enough could not be found. They counted once, they counted twice; they'll count a whole lot more. But when they all have finished, 'twill be Wilson four years more."

ARABIA NOT WARNED, SAYS LLOYD'S REPORT

State Department Officials at High Tension Over Ship's Loss.

The State Department received a dispatch yesterday, based on the Lloyd's report stating that the British Peninsular and Oriental steamship Arabia was sunk in the Mediterranean without warning, on November 6. All the passengers were rescued, but two engineers are missing. The Arabia carried armament, and had two American passengers. Tension is high in administration circles over the recent attacks by submarines upon merchant vessels, which in several instances are reported to have been in violation of Germany's pledge to the United States.

The State Department made it plain that this government will hold Germany to a strict accountability for attacks without warning upon armed merchantmen, with Americans aboard.

Both the British steamer Marina, which had on board several Americans, six of whom perished, and the Arabia, which carried two Americans, who were reported to have been attacked without warning, Germany has declared armed merchantmen to be war vessels. Holland refused to admit them into her ports and classified them as ships of force. The United States, however, maintains that such vessels are peaceable merchantmen, although each case is to be decided on its own merits.

The case of the Arabia resembles in many particulars that of the Persia, also of the Peninsula and Oriental Line, except that an American consul lost his life on the latter ship.

The nationality of the submarine which attacked the Arabia has not been reported, and it is possible mystery will shroud it as in the destruction of the Persia.

It was indicated at the State Department that inquiries would be instituted into the reported attacks upon the American-Hawaiian steamship Columbia, which sent out wireless calls while being shelled by a submarine, and the Philippine liner Lamo, which was sunk, supposedly by a submarine.

The State Department has received no response to its request to Berlin for information concerning the activities of the U-3 off Nantucket.
